

Predatory Animal Control Meeting

CONSERVATION OFFICIALS TO MEET HERE DEC. 16

According to Senator-Elect Miles M. Callaghan, there will be a meeting held in Grayling on Wednesday, December 16th, for the purpose of discussing the matter of predatory animal control.

This meeting is to get wide publicity and it is expected that there will be an attendance of about 200 people from 10 to 15 counties. Sportsmen and others interested in conservation of game animals which are being destroyed will be invited, as well as farmers who are having animals killed in many counties. Arrangements are being made for a meeting place, which will be announced later.

Camp Fire Notes

Wetomachick Group

The Wetomachick Campfire girls spent a lovely evening at the home of Mary Jane Joseph Friday. A council fire was held at which fourteen girls received their Woodgatherer's rank. Many honor beads were awarded to the girls. The following girls received this first rank:

Virginia Peterson, Mary Jane Joseph, Lois Bradley, Katherine Peterson, Jane Ann Martin, Thelma Papendick, Joyce Heath, Mildred Craft, Ruth Burrows, Jerinne Mathews, Betty Christenson, Marion Kasper, Marguerite LaChapelle, Carol Case.

These girls will now begin work on the Firemarker's rank. Plans for the year were discussed. Our next project will be a Christmas party for some children. During the winter we hope to have several carnivals for the children of Grayling, like the one we had last year.

At the close of the meeting Marguerite LaChapelle, Lois Bradley, Betty Christenson, Katherine Peterson, Thelma Papendick and Jerinne Mathews read the play "Spruce Cone and Bunchberry" which was very interesting.

A refreshment committee served us with candy and apples. Mary Jane proved to be a lovely hostess. Everyone went home happy.

Time To Buy TB Christmas Seals

Dispatching sixty million messengers of health to homes in all parts of Michigan so that funds may be provided to continue the war against tuberculosis in 1937, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association this week announced the official opening of the thirtieth annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. In progress from Thanksgiving Day to Christmas, the sale will determine the scope of the anti-tuberculosis program the Association and its affiliated groups will carry on in the state during the next twelve months.

Hopeful of returning receipts from the 1936 sale to pre-depression levels, officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association urged that residents of the state make their purchase of the tiny Christmas seals as generous as personal circumstances would allow. They asked, too, that the expense of sending a follow-up letter might be spared.

Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, declared this week that the need for a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis is mortality in Michigan has been reduced by fifty per cent in the last quarter century, more than two thousand deaths still occur in the state each year, Dr. Douglas reminded.

"To ease-up now in the campaign would be disastrous," Dr. Douglas declared. "Now is the time to redouble our efforts, for the half of the battle that remains ahead will be much more difficult than the half that is won."

"It is true that with funds raised through the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has been able to bring two of the modern weapons of medical science—the tuberculin test and the X-ray—to more than 100,000 Michigan people. It is also true, though, that other thousands are still without the benefits of these modern safeguards. And so, to hold the gains that have been made in the last thirty years, Michigan must carry on its present anti-tuberculosis campaign with vigor undiminished. The

State To Auction Gas and Oil Leases

Nearly 90,000 acres of state land will be made available to the oil industry of Michigan for private exploration and development when the department of conservation holds its public auction of state-owned oil and gas lease rights in Lansing on Dec. 3 and 4.

This is the largest total of state-held oil and gas lease rights ever offered at one time in a public auction in Michigan and due to the large acreage involved it will be necessary to devote two days to the auction instead of one as on previous similar occasions.

The lands involved are scattered through 12 counties as follows: Arenac county, 5,516 acres; Bay county, 3,231 acres; Clare county, 1,323 acres; Gladwin county, 18,506 acres; Isabella county, 339 acres; Midland county, 3,596 acres; Montmorency county, 6,041 acres; Newaygo county, 160 acres; Ogemaw county, 8,201 acres; Osceola county, 554 acres; Otsego county, 12,142 acres; Roscommon, 29,930 acres; making a total of 89,539 acres.

GAYLORD TO DEDICATE NEW GYMNASIUM

To the Editor:

The following is prepared for your convenience, and we would like to have you use all of the contents if at all possible. What every you do for our school and our dedication program on Dec. 4, will be appreciated very much.

Brief Resume
The dedication of the new school gymnasium at Gaylord will take place on Dec. 4th. The gymnasium is 92 by 120 feet and is built of cobblestone, finished on the inside in tile. It is very elaborate and beautiful and we expect it to serve many purposes, including the district tournament.

We are going to try to make this event one of the greatest ever held in Northern Michigan, and we want folks of every community in the North to come to Gaylord on the occasion. Most communities are going to participate in it some time in the near future.

There is to be a program of two basketball games, speeches, band music, followed by a dance, floor show and refreshments. People who plan on attending are urged to come early as we expect a record crowd. However we can take care of around 2000 discarded toys in the basement or people. The program starts at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

Yours truly,

John Makel,
Principal and Coach.

Thanksgiving—An American Day

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Thanksgiving is recognized as one of the most characteristic and appropriate of all our American National Holidays.

Why?
Probably because the American people, through the period of their nation's existence, have had more to be thankful for than the people of any other land.

Not in the material sense alone! The pioneers who celebrated our first Thanksgiving Day expressed gratitude not only for bountiful harvests, but also for the freedom with which Divine Providence had rewarded their courage and labors.

That spirit endures. Every Presidential proclamation of a Day of National Thanksgiving has sounded the same note of reverence.

Thus, through the years, Thanksgiving Day has become not only a national expression of gratitude, but a re-dedication to the spirit which lived in its strong and valiant founders.

The seeds of freedom sown by them have borne a harvest more bountiful than their own crops. Our reasons for national gratitude have grown—not diminished.

They gave thanks for fruitful harvests; we for a bountiful supply not only of the necessities of life, but of comforts far beyond their modest aspirations.

They gave thanks for liberty to worship as they chose. We give thanks not only for freedom of religion, but for freedom of speech and of action and of opportunity as well.

Many nations cannot do this today. The iron hand of Dictatorship or the red blight of Communism; the terrors of war, without or within—all have robbed them of the security and the liberties which our fathers established as an American birthright.

Our duty is not limited to appreciation, however grateful, of these blessings. It involves their preservation as well.

G. H. S. Defeated By Lone Point

Characteristic of the Grayling high school spirit, the fighting Green and White put everything they possessed into the game Friday night, although losing to the veteran Kalkaska squad by a score of 19-18.

The inexperienced Northern Lights played a brilliant game considering the fact that this was the first time they have played together as a team. Also, taking into consideration that Coutts, Mosher, Bowen, Smock and Joseph have never been in a varsity game before Friday night, they made a showing to be proud of. As usual the veteran Chalker and B. Hanson were on their toes throughout the game, Chalker being high point man with six points.

"No Grayling team ever played harder," remarked Coach Cornett after the game, "with another week of practice on our own gym floor we will be hard to beat."

Four shots played an important part in the defeat of the Green and White. Kalkaska tallied only four field goals but accounted for eleven free throws, while Grayling chalked up only two out of ten free shots.

The Reserves also marked one down in the defeat of the Green and White. Kalkaska tallied only four field goals but accounted for eleven free throws, while Grayling chalked up only two out of ten free shots.

Season tickets are now on sale by students. Nine home games for the nominal sum of $1.00. Be sure and contact some high school student.

ELMER SIMPSON PASSED AWAY

Funeral services were held, Monday afternoon for Elmer W. Simpson, of Lake City, who passed away at his home Saturday, following a brief illness. Services were held at the Methodist church of that city, and interment was in the Lake City cemetery.

Mr. Simpson, who was 61 years of age, was a native of Oak Lawn, Ill. In 1901 he was united in marriage to Effie Cheese, at Lockport, Ill., and they made their home there for three years; moving from there to Fletcher, Michigan, where they resided for fourteen years. Lake City is where he resided at the time of his death.

Although he had never made his home in Grayling, Mr. Simpson has carried on a vegetable trade, with many of his customers located here. He is the father of Wilbur Simpson of this city, and has many friends here.

Surviving, besides the widow, are three sons, Wilbur, of Grayling; Elmer, Jr., of Lake City; and Lloyd, of Chicago; One sister, Mrs. Belle Johnson, of Oak Lawn, Ill.; and one brother Bert Simpson, of Oklahoma. There are also eight grandchildren.

Those in attendance at the funeral from here were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Simpson, Mrs. Andrew Beck and son Murvel, Floyd Goshorn, James Post Jr., and Bryan Newell.

WANTED—OLD XMAS TOYS

A drive for old and broken toys will be carried on for the next two weeks under the W.P.A. Recreation Program with the aid of local agencies.

These toys will be repaired and painted by youths working on the National Youth program under competent leadership, and then turned over to the community for their use at Christmas time.

Why not look now for those discarded toys in the basement or attic that will bring happiness and cheer to some boy or girl this Christmas. If you have any toys for this purpose, kindly leave word at the Avalanche Office or with Arthur Clough, Ken Gothro or Russell Robertson and they will gladly call for them.

Grayling Come Back To The AuSable

The grayling have come back to the AuSable river here, but they're not the original Michigan species now nearly extinct.

The department of conservation has transferred 2,000 Montana grayling fingerlings from the Wolf Lake hatchery near Kalamazoo to the Grayling hatchery where they may be seen by visitors. The fingerlings will be used for the first time at this hatchery in propagation experiments.

Some authorities insist that the Michigan grayling and the Montana grayling are scientifically indistinguishable.

Five thousand Montana grayling have been planted in Ford lake, one of the pot-hole lakes in the Pigeon River state forest northeast of Gaylord from which all forms of fish life were removed by the Institute for Fisheries Research early this fall. Since the grayling are protected the year around, this lake will be posted against public fishing.

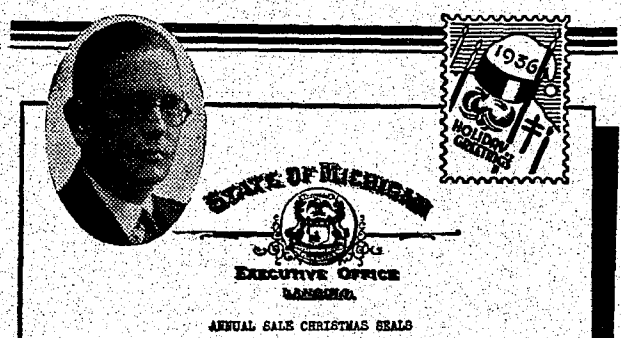

Keeping Watch on Rhine

A few years after the Franco-German war, which gave Alsace-Lorraine to Germany as an imperial territory, a large national movement was set up on the hills opposite Bingen, representing the figure of Germania, keeping watch on the Rhine. It is thirty-four feet high and bears aloft the imperial crown and the laurel-wreathed sword. On the base are portraits of Emperor Wilhelm I and other German princes and generals and representations of troops from various states of the empire, together with the words of the national song "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Buy Christmas Seals Urges Gov. Fitzgerald

The two great scourges that devastate a country are war and disease. War can be prevented when there is installed into the hearts and minds of men and women the teaching of the Golden Rule, and much of the human family's ailments can be avoided or corrected when the public mind is more conscious of the fact that preventative measures are oftentimes of more value than corrective ones.

The people are the greatest asset any nation possesses, and to be physically fit is one of the greatest blessings of mankind.

In the past tuberculosis, known as the "White Plague," made inroads upon the health of our people, and as a result there has been financial loss to our nation and interrupted cultural and economic development. The progress which has been made in the treatment and care of those afflicted with this dread disease, as indicated by the lowering of the death rate, is a credit to our state. The lowering of the death rate and the sending out of men and women into the world free from this disease has largely been accomplished through progressive and intelligently directed efforts of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, whose activities have been financed to an important degree through the sale of Christmas seals. Unless the good work which has been carried on in the past is continued, we will lose a large part of the money and labor expended in the past.

I am in hearty sympathy with the support of this and any other movement that has for its purpose the eradication or retarding of physical ailments among our people.

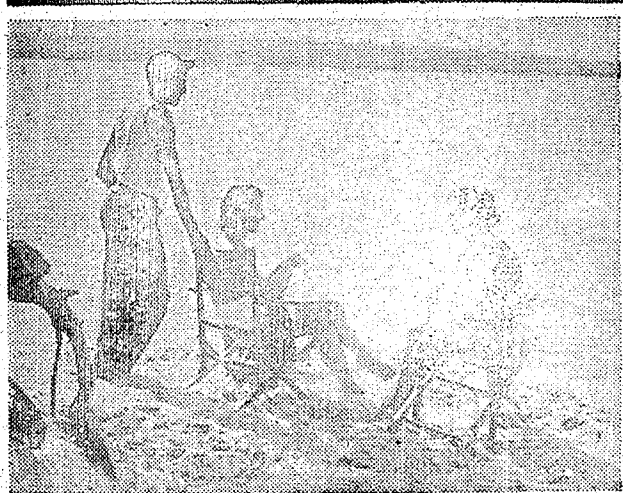

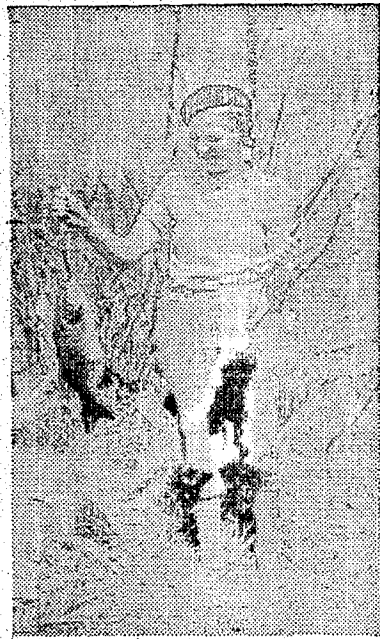

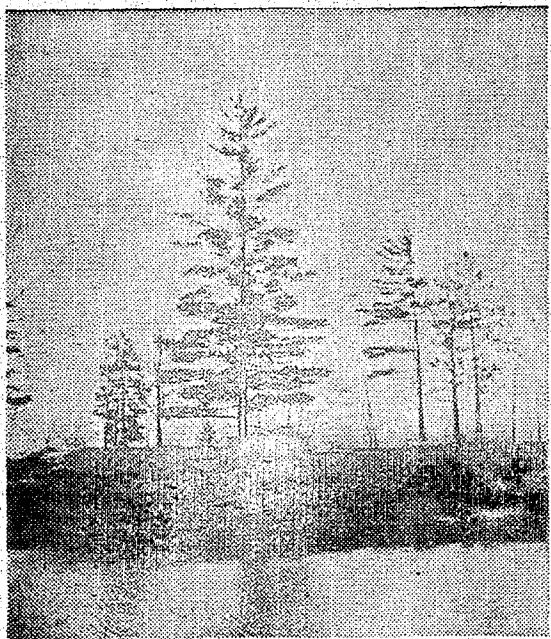

Therefore, in conformity to a properly established custom, I, Frank D. Fitzgerald, Governor, hereby direct the attention of the people of our Commonwealth to the Annual Sale of Christmas Seals, the proceeds of which are used in the care of tuberculous patients, and urge that each one of us patronize this sale as generously as our financial condition will permit.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this Fifteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-six, and of the Commonwealth, the One Hundredth.

By the Governors:
Frank D. Fitzgerald
Governor
Secretary of State

URGING THAT Michigan people make a generous purchase of tuberculosis Christmas seals this year, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald has issued the official proclamation reproduced above. More than 60,000,000 of the tiny seals are being distributed in the state this year by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and affiliated organizations. Funds raised will be used to carry on the fight against the White Plague that has been waged by the Association since 1908. The sale opens officially on Thanksgiving Day and will continue through to Christmas.

Invitations to the Tourist

The call to recreation is made with pictures like these which are used in nationally advertising the state of Michigan as a vacation center. The above pictures are some of the entries in the E. M. T. A. picture contest running now until December 20th. Upper left is a scene on the Keweenaw river. Beneath it a beach group takes it easy on the shores of Higgins lake. The angler and her catch were both caught by the camera at the Au Sable river, and the restful evening setting was taken at Brownlee lake, near Lincoln, Michigan.

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO THE AMERICAN FAMILY?

The following is a review of Harry Emerson Fosdick's article
—"WHAT IS HAPPENING TO THE AMERICAN FAMILY?" In that article published in the American Magazine the writer
says in part as follows:

A far-reaching revolt is on against Old-Fashioned family life. There is a tendency to believe in the "Good old times" of past years and to see our present degeneracy against a fair background of an imagined past.

The author calls attention to how intolerable that old-fashioned family life would be. He cites an ancient law dealing with the rights of a wife, which says:

"He shall treat and govern the aforesaid wife well and decently, and shall not inflict nor cause to be inflicted any injury upon the aforesaid wife, except in so far as he may lawfully and reasonably do in accordance with the right of a husband to correct and chastise his wife."

That was old-fashioned family life. In those days all the English wives properly belonged to the husband. If she was a wage-earner, all her savings were his by law. If he brutally mistreated her and deserted her and she became self supporting, he could return any time and take away every cent that she had gained.
If he died first he even could will away all her property and leave her destitute.

That was old-fashioned family
life. As for divorce, only the man could hope to get it. Quoting a Philadelphia clergyman, dating as late a time as 1880, who says:

"There is no crime which a man can commit which justifies his wife in leaving him or applying for that monstrous thing, divorce. It is his duty to subject himself to him always, and no crime that he can commit can justify her lack of obedience. If he be a bad or wicked man,
she may gently remonstrate
with him, but refuse him never."

That was old-fashioned family
life, and the writer says "there is no wonder that for half a century the revolt has been persistent and vehement."

Today 8 1/2 millions of women in the U. S. are in gainful occupations. The consequences of this fact are far out-reaching and deep. Freedom is a matter of economics; there is little use in claiming to be free if one is economically dependent. What is clear is that modern women will not stand what their foremothers did, because they do not have to.

Thus a vehement revolt is on against old-fashioned family life.
The real danger in our situation lies in the fact that so many people see clearly what they are revolting from and few see at all what they are revolting to.

It seems to be trial marriage,
but, is that really where we wish to end? If not, now is the time to face the question. At present we are undoubtedly facing that way.

The term "Companionate marriage" was first employed by Dr.
Knight of Bernard college in an article published in 1924. At its inception it was simply the wedlock of two people wishing to marry without facing, at least in the early years, the responsibility of children. The writer cites a number of incidents where such an arrangement is both innocent and desirable.

From this early and simple meaning the phrase "Companion-ate marriage" has moved out to a much wider significance, and "Companionate marriage" now popularly represents a scheme of sexual experimentation, whereby two people go thru the form of marriage in order to live with each other without assuming either the hope of permanency
or of the responsibility of children.

In a word, "Companionate marriage" has generally become synonymous with "Trial marriage." If one doesn't make a success of it, try again. The proponents of "Companionate marriage" advocate the removal of legal restriction against dissemination of information about methods of birth control. This, Dr. Fosdick says, if it must come it should be only thru the endorsement of a reputable physician, giving him the legal right to offer such information only in cases where it is deemed by him advisable.

Second, the proponents of "Companionate marriage" insist that divorce be by mutual consent. In such event the writer would at least require that a whole year must elapse between the application and the granting of the divorce.

Dr. Fosdick says that personally he does not believe that the American people in the long run will consent to that exchange.
If they do consent to it the degeneration of American civilization will come on apace. The attitudes and actions involved in trial marriage are, first, psychologically disruptive to the individual and socially ruinous to the nation.

The plain fact, however, is that
from nature's standpoint, sexes are only a lure to get two people to love each other deeply enough and long enough to bring up children. What nature wants is children, and because nature always makes attractive the road to the goal she seeks she has allured men and women into family life by pleasant paths.

What she is getting at, however,
was not the pleasure of the path,
but the goal of the children, and everybody who makes it his principal of action to steal the

Thanksgiving In 1936

Thanksgiving this year finds America with much for which it can rejoice. We are at peace with the world and further from entanglements than almost any other nation.

The emergency of the depression is past. Unemployment rolls have fallen to probably less than 4,000,000. Manufacturing employment is almost back to the 1929 level. Payrolls have risen steadily and many of the 18,000,000 shareholders in America's great industries are receiving their first dividends in years.

President Roosevelt is able to report "the return of prosperity has restored hope to citizens in all parts of the country."

Best of all, we can reflect upon this Thanksgiving day that America has avoided the pitfalls of other countries. While the post-war depressions have drawn other peoples into the quicksand of tyranny, we in this country have stood firm on our liberties and freedom.

Depressions have always been a welcome vehicle for the demagogue, the agitator, the false prophet. Even with prosperity returning, there will be those who will look backward and insist upon their quack remedies for an emergency that is no longer with us.

But it is inconceivable that after battling upward out of the valley of the depression for six years America will surrender any part of its liberty with the goal in sight.

That is not the American Way. And for that all people will give thanks.

gratification of Nature's lure without fulfilling Nature's purpose is committing a psychological theft on which Nature wrecks inevitable vengeance.

Justice Court

Game law violations have been so few during this deer season that it begins to look as though hunting folks are pretty much read up on the law or else are too sly to get caught. Justice Hans Petersen reports only a few violations. The first was Gordon Dobbs of Flint, who appeared before him and paid fine and costs of $56.85 and had his gun confiscated. He pleaded guilty to shooting a doe deer. This was his first experience and Justice Petersen said he didn't think much of the hunting, as he bid him goodbye.

Minor violations were that of T. M. Pluett and Thomas Murphy of Edmore, Mich., who plead guilty to having loaded guns in their automobile. They paid fine and costs amounting to $6.85, had their guns confiscated and went away rejoicing.

Warren Stephan was convicted in Justice Petersen's court for having a deer in his possession
without having attached license tag. He was fined $75.00 and costs or to be imprisoned in jail for 15 days. At the present time he is in custody.

Lawrence Hunter plead guilty
in Justice Petersen's court on a charge of having sold a deer.
Hunter says that he was storing the deer for Warren Stephan and that the latter sent two men to his place to look over the deer
and, if they were satisfied, to buy them and give him the money.
He was fined $25.00 and costs and was released.

Barney Fink, age 50, of Houghton Lake was convicted of selling a buck and doe in a Roscom-mon justice court. His fine was $100 and costs. But he elected to serve 30 days in jail and is in Grayling jail. Mr. Fink is already on probation on a conviction of breaking and entering.

Norman Williams of Ohio was arrested for hunting on a Michigan license instead of an out-of-state license. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $25.00 and costs.

Miss Mary Connine and Miss Laura Johnson spent Friday in Cadillac.

Mrs. James Reynolds enjoyed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles

City, spending the holiday with Mrs. Lovely's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon LaVictoire.

Do not clean a gun until you have made positive inspection of chamber and barrel. Never point a gun at anybody. It's a foolish and senseless action.

The supposedly unloaded gun is the gun that has killed many people. If you cannot handle a gun, stay away from it.

Every day the papers write of hunting accidents. "Hunter accidentally shot." "Rifle or shot gun explodes when hunter drops gun." And so on.

This is said to be the largest construction job now under way in the world. The siphon unit shown above will be of reinforced concrete and will have a finished diameter of 12 feet. Flour From Ohio
When the first Ohio shipment of flour, consisting of 100 pounds, arrived in New York in the thirties, crowds gathered around to see what the Buckeye country could produce, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. This flour was made at the Venice, Ohio, mills, erected in 1833 at the first permanent market for wheat in the Firelands. Seeing this enormous shipment brought in, a few New York merchants were bold enough to predict that Ohio in the near future would be able to furnish the East with several thousand pounds a year.

SOME TIMELY RECIPES

EAT prunes often, simply as fruit, or stuffed with nuts or cheese on lettuce for a salad. The prune is one of the best of dried fruits and should be used freely with the dried apricots and peaches.

Raisin Pudding.
Blend one-half cup of sugar with four tablespoons of flour. Add two cups of milk, one cup of raisins, two beaten eggs, one teaspoon each of cinnamon and vanilla, one-half teaspoon of lemon extract and one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt. Cook until creamy, in a double boiler. It is best to add the extracts after the cooking.

Peach Mallows.
Take halves of canned peaches, place in stemmed sherbet glasses, fill the halves with marshmallows. Take the peach strips, add a teaspoon of cornstarch, cook until well done, then add the yolk of an egg lightly beaten; stir until smooth, flavor when cool with a few drops of almond and pour over the fruit in the cups.

Tuna Fish With Rice
Roll one-half cup of rice and when well cooked mix with a can of tuna that has been well flaked. Moisten with a cream sauce using one tablespoon each of flour and butter and half a cup of rich milk. Cook until smooth and thick, then season, add the rice and fish and put into individual ramekins. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

Creamed Green Onions.
Cut the tops into inch slices and cook with the small onions until tender, or leave an inch or two of green stem on the onion and cook. Serve in a white sauce on toast as for asparagus.

A few fruits like a bottle or two of maraschino cherries, sardines, salmon, lobster and shrimp, will often save the day when trying to play a meal.

A ROBBER MEETING

IT WAS night in the big barn. It was the night of Billy Mink's visit when he had killed the big rat there. As soon as Billy had left the barn the gray old leader of the rats had sent word around that all the rats in the barn should meet him at once at their usual meeting place under the floor.

As soon as the word was received each member of the robber band hurried to the meeting place. They knew why the gray old leader had called them together, and as they hurried to the meeting place there was fear in the heart of each one of them. It was long since fear had been known in the big barn. It was the first time some of them had ever experienced fear. You see, they had been so well taught how to avoid traps and poison that they did not fear those things. They had made the cat afraid of them, so they did not fear the cat. It was no trouble at all to keep out of the way of the farmer, so they did not fear the farmer.

But this slim, brown enemy who had entered their den so boldly and had run down and killed one of their number had brought with him fear. So, as from every direction the rats scurried to that meeting place, they continually looked behind them for that slim, brown creature, who moved so swiftly and from whom even their gray old leader had run away. Most of them did not know who Billy Mink was, for they had always lived in that big barn, and no one at all like Billy had ever been there before.

As soon as all the rats had answered his call the gray old leader began to speak. "I have called this meeting," said he, "to decide what we had best do. A terrible enemy has come among us and, as you know, has killed one of our number. He has left the big barn, as I know, because I watched him. For the time being we are quite safe. But when he again becomes hungry he will return."

"Who is he?" squeaked a young rat. "He didn't look very big to me. If we all get together, I don't see why we should be afraid of him. We drove out that cat and that cat is a great deal bigger than this fellow. Who is he, anyway?"

"He is Billy Mink," replied the gray old leader gravely. "He is Billy Mink?" squeaked another half-grown young robber.

"He is sure death to any rat he may start out to catch," replied the old leader. "He belongs to the Weasel family and all members of this family are enemies of the rat tribe, and more to be feared than any other enemy we have."

"Why can't we hide when he comes?" asked another young robber. "I never have seen any one I couldn't hide from."

"Then, unless I am greatly mistaken, you are likely to have a chance," snapped the leader.

California Danes Stage Pageant

COMMEMORATING the daring deeds of their Viking ancestors with Old-world festival, residents of the quaint Danish town of Solvang, near Santa Barbara, Calif., ended their celebration of the community's twenty-fifth anniversary with a pageant in which stalwart descendants of the Vikings themselves played leading roles. Solvang was settled, developed and populated entirely by Danes who have preserved there the educational, religious and cultural background of their race and country.

DEPT. OF STATE

STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Public Buys 1,000 1937 Plates Daily

Sale of motor vehicle license plates for 1937 is proceeding at the rate of slightly more than 1,000 pairs a day, Department of State figures show.

These figures include plates for all classes of motor vehicles, including passenger cars, dealers' cars, commercial vehicles and motorcycles.

Plates for 1937 went on sale Oct. 21, so ordered by Orville E. Atwood Secretary, as an aid to car manufacturers, who bring new models out in the fall now, rather than during mid-winter. Plates for which revenue was actually checked into the Department of State for the first 19 days of sale, including Nov. 12, showed that 21,888 pairs of plates had been sold throughout the state.

Any disposition on the part of the public to defer purchase of plates for cars they now own, is seen as a reflection of uncertainty as to what changes the 1937 legislature might make in the motor vehicle law as it pertains to the deadline for annual plate purchases.

Atwood has publicly recommended a March 31 deadline; and on request of Leon D. Case, Secretary of State-elect, Atwood has announced a 30 day extension from Jan. 1, making the prospective deadline Jan. 31. In the meantime the 1937 legislature may take action on this matter.

Error Delays Many Drivers' Licenses

From 15 to 25 per cent of the applications for licenses to operate motor vehicles in the state of Michigan, are returned for necessary correction or completion, with consequent delay, Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State has pointed out.

On days when as many as 2,000 to 3,000 applications may be received at the capitol, from 300 to 500 may be returned to applicants. While the state is placed to some expense in making a refund of the $1 fee, the greatest inconvenience is caused to the applicant.

About 20 days are required to send the license out, once it is received at the capitol, and this period is doubled when it becomes necessary to return the application.

Commonest errors include that of failing to have the applicant's name spelled the identical way on all three places where such entry is required on the application. Large numbers of applicants fail to answer all questions, though the application bears the caution that all must be answered.

P. O. Rules Trip State Fee Orders

Officials of the Department of State at Lansing are pointing out that postal money orders sent to the Secretary of State should be made payable at Lansing, rather than at any other point. A fee is charged for cashing postal money orders at any place other than that designated for payment; as the department has no appropriation to meet this, such money orders are returned to their makers. Great inconvenience to those sending fees is thus caused. The regulations concerning the extra fee were passed at the last session of Congress.

Unique Clock Tells All

An extraordinary clock given by Queen Liliuokalani to a church in 1890 recalled days when Hawaii was a monarchy rather than an integral part of the United States. Liliuokalani was the last royal ruler of the islands. The royal gift is a round wall clock, 32 inches in diameter, says a Pan-Pacific Press Bureau. Figures around the outside of the 24-inch dial are numbered 1 to 31; telling the day of the month. An eight-inch dial above the center tells the hours and minutes, but instead of the numerals the 12 letters in the queen's name record the hours. Another dial gives the phases of the moon. A still smaller dial indicates years and leap years. The complete device is operated by a single spring.

Earliest Settlements

Newport and Portsmouth share with Providence the distinction of being the earliest settlements. After Roger Williams settled at Providence in 1639 another band of religious "outcasts" from Massachusetts, under the leadership of William Coddington and Anne Hutchinson, settled at Portsmouth in 1638. When dissension broke out in this colony William Coddington and a group moved on to Newport in 1639.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis
© Public Ledger, Inc.

AS YOUR understanding of the language of the hand increases, you'll find its practical application helpful as well as entertaining. Knowledge of the significance of the types of hands alone will inform you of their owner's characteristics and enable you to gauge both business and social contacts with certainty as to the kind of man or woman you are dealing with.

The Spatulate Type of Hand.

This type will be readily recognized by its irregular shape, which is sometimes most noticeable on the palm side, in the space bounded by the base of the fingers, the wrist and edges of the palm.

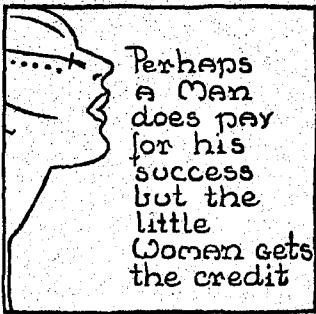

The fingers and thumb of this type may vary, in some hands being of medium length, in others possessing surprising length. The fingers, as well as thumb, however, are characteristically broad and chisel shaped, with large, flat pads on the side opposite and extending beyond the nail. The thumb is somewhat loose-looking and more often than not is of almost abnormal length from the beginning of the nail joint to the nail tip.

The men or women whose hands are of this type are usually inclined to restlessness if their creative and emotional natures are held too much in conventional restraint. The spatulate type, with palm much wider at the finger base than wrist, indicates a fair measure of emotional control. When the reverse occurs, there is apt to be a decided tendency toward impetuous speech and conduct.

Those with spatulate type hands are happiest and most successful in activities which loose their tremendous powers of energy, quick thinking, originality and creative abilities amid surroundings that are as free as possible from conventional restraints.

Eve's Epigrams

Perhaps a man does pay for his success but the little woman gets the credit.

Oh!

Teacher—James, have you whispered while I was out of the room?

James—Only wunst, ma'am.

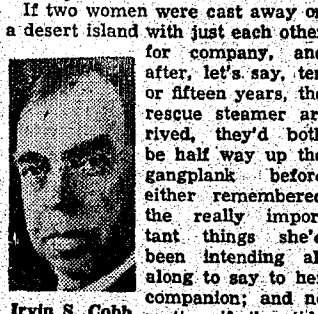

Teacher—Helen, should James say "wunst"?

Helen—No, ma'am, he should say "twicst."

What I Think about

BOHEMIAN GROVE, CALIF.—Up here in the Bohemian club's grove where, during the summer encampment, no women are allowed either at large or on the leash, I've been thinking about their little peculiarities.

If two women were cast away on a desert island with just each other for company, and after, let's say, ten or fifteen years, the rescue steamer arrived, they'd both be half way up the gangplank before either remembered the really important things she'd been intending all along to say to her companion; and no matter if the tide were falling and the wind rising, they'd stop right there in their tracks and thrash it all out.

Irvin S. Cobb

If you doubt this, see what happens when a pair of them are swapping good-bys, after an all-day conversation, on finishing a long chatty motor trip together. If they can find a narrow doorway where they'll block traffic, that's where they'll halt, always.

It's a curious sex, any way you take it. But we men keep on taking it and liking it. I don't know whether we're dumb—or numb. Must be one or the other.

CELEBRATING his fifth birthday the other day, my small grandson and namesake met another gentleman of like age who bragged that his nurse brought him to the party in a car.

"Can your mama drive a car?" inquired the guest.

"No," answered my descendant, "but I'm going to teach her. All you do is start off and keep going till you have to stop, and then you say, 'Damn those red lights.'"

It would appear that Cobb has been listening to his grandfather.

Praising King Edward.

IF HE was a Communist, of a breed who are usually half-baked mentalities, it was only to be expected that his effort to murder King Edward should be—thank heavens—a fizzle.

If he was a lunatic, then he's the kind of lunatic who should spend the rest of his days behind high walls. If he was a deliberate assassin—well, at least he gave a gallant monarch a chance to show how gallantly monarchs can behave in the face of danger.

Any man, given the royal background and an open path to the throne, can be a king, but not every king is a man. This king is—he proved it and this part of the world rejoices at the outcome.

The Troubles of Europe.

WE MAY have our own troubles, including so many mounting taxes over the land and so much mountain music over the radio, but what with Spain rent by internal war, and France having strikes which almost approximate war, and Poland threatening revolt against Nazi control of what, laughably, is called the "Free" City of Danzig, and the rest of them pretty generally stewing in their respective political caseroles, we're lucky.

In fact I can think of but one thing the European nations have which we could use, but, alas, will never get, needless to say. I refer to the money they owe us.

How the League Performs.

UNDER the rattle of the machine guns and the shrieks of the victims as civil war flames across Spain, that faint creeping sound which you hear, sounding something like a mouse in the wainscoting, is the League of Nations taking its customary prompt steps to enforce peace upon this and all other distracted countries whatsoever.

By the way, does anyone remember when, once upon a bygone time, there was a war to end the persistent disease called war, a final war which forevermore would restore true democratic principles and motherly love to rival nations and embittered peoples? To date the result makes one almost despair of ever finding a cure for my dandruff.

Mormons Made Own Sugar Cut off from the states and harassed by Indians, the Mormons undertook the production of their own sugar. Beet sugar machinery was purchased in Liverpool, shipped to New Orleans, then up the river. Fifty-two ox teams in 1852 finally tugged the equipment from Leavenworth to Utah and 500 bushels of beet seed arrived. This was the inception of the beet sugar industry of Utah.

VARIOUS GOOD THINGS

HERE is a cottage cheese pie that everybody will like, because it is different:

Beat three eggs, add one cupful of cottage cheese, nine tablespoonsful of sugar, one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, a cupful of coconut milk and a cupful of rich milk, or use as much of the milk as the nut contains and add enough cow's milk to make two cupfuls of liquid. Add a pinch of salt and more sugar if it is not sweet enough. A grating of lemon peel may be used instead of the nutmeg if that is not liked. Pour into a deep pastry lined pie plate and bake as for custard pie.

Crisp Molasses Cookies

Take two and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour, one-fourth cupful of bread flour, one teaspoonful each of baking powder and salt, two teaspoonfuls of ginger, then sift all again. Heat one cupful of molasses, add one-half cupful of butter and two teaspoonfuls of soda. Add the flour gradually and when well mixed, chill. Roll very thin and cut with a cookie cutter. Bake ten minutes.

Orange Sponge Cake

Beat two egg yolks with four tablespoonsful of orange juice and one-half tablespoonful of lemon juice until thick; mix three-fourths of a cupful of sugar with one-half teaspoonful of grated orange rind and add gradually to the egg yolks; add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and cut and fold in one cupful of flour, sifted four times with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda. Pour into a buttered cake pan and bake in a moderate oven.

Lemon Pie

Take one and one-half cupfuls of bread crumbs, cover with one cupful of boiling water and let stand until soft. Mix one cupful of sugar and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, add two egg yolks well beaten and the juice and grated rind of a lemon. Combine the mixtures and make in one crust.

Let us attend church this year and offer our thanks. A community service will be held at the Danish Lutheran church on Thanksgiving Day morning at 11 o'clock.

The members of the "Birth-day" club held a jolly meeting, Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick; Mrs. Papendick being guest of honor. Eleven members answered to roll call and Mrs. John Charles, Mrs. Sidney Robarge and Mrs. John Wakeley, were guests. Games were in play during the afternoon with Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. N. The Milk Fund for Grayling school children was enriched, Monday evening, by a barn dance and box social, which were held at the school gymnasium. The affair was very well attended and was very successful.

So far this week we have heard of very few hunters who have filled their licenses during the second week of the season. They are as follows: Robert Sorenson, Warren Stephan, Charles McNamara Jr., and Leland Marshall.

Mrs. Charles Fehr is critically ill at Mercy Hospital following a stroke. As usual, she had been with Mr. Fehr at the Sunrise Club, acting as cook for the deer hunters. Saturday she was taken ill and brought in to Grayling and was stricken at about eight o'clock that same day.

Six members of the Hi-Y Club are leaving Friday for Pontiac to attend the Annual Hi-Y conference. They will remain in Pontiac over the week end. Those making the trip are: Bill Joseph, Leonard Knipps, John Henry Peterson, Kermit Charron, Max Ferguson and Edwin Chalker Jr. They will be chaperoned by Joseph Stripe, manual training teacher.

Chuck McNamara, 14 years of age, armed with his father's deer rifle and a hunting license that was endorsed by his dad, stalked his deer Sunday afternoon down at their hunting camp. One well directed shot snatched the deer's neck and, in true huntsman's manner, it didn't take Chuck long to attach his tag. While his father, C. J. McNamara, played tag, Chuck held down the trail and when the big moment came there was no buck fever for him, in spite of the fact that this was his first deer hunt. It is hard to say just whether he or his dad was the most pleased at his success. It was a fine eight-point buck.

Among the Clerks

(By J. Wellington Bumsted)

Just when we were wondering if Blackie would be as handy with bucks as he seems to be with donkeys, he brings home a 295 pound Bruin. With donkeys and bears in his exhibit and a ten point buck in the ome, Blackie ought to have a pretty fine museum collection of mounted trophies.

Leland seems to be the first hunter to be able to boast of the capture of a three-legged deer. So, there will be one day when the Marshall family will have to fill in with venison stew instead of the usual steak roast. Next year, he says, it'll be a five-legged one or nothing.

If you don't think Helen May is a s-o-m-e bowler, just step in and ask George Stanley about it. She has already taken four dollars on the house and after a month or so expects to have enough for a one-way ticket to Mexico.

Romance blossoms—even in near-December weather! We have it from absolutely dependable sources that the great event is scheduled for Sunday at the bridal home. The young groom gets his monthly rent and rations from the Schweitzer Company, and the bride is a well-known Crawford county girl. Congratulations!

Take inventory on your ducks—because Floyd Lovely is speculating on his Thanksgiving fowlery. He says he doesn't mind paying for the cranberries but it's a fat pocket that divvies up enough "kale" to pay for a brace of ducks or turkeys.

Just by way of gentle suggestion—I can't help but wonder why "Bones" Sorenson doesn't take his toothbrush and pajamas along when he goes to the Plaza Grill for another of those 24-hour bowling tryouts.

Elephants and Bishaws never forget—so it isn't likely that Biddie will ever get over the fact that the ten-point buck faced the

NOODLE AND MACARONI DISHES

IN FAMILIES where meat is too expensive to buy often, the following dishes will furnish all the flavor of the meat with a small amount of it:

Chili Noodles.

The noodles may be homemade (which are probably cheaper if used in large quantity) or the package noodles. Cook as many as are needed in boiling salted water, drain and add the following: One small onion chopped, also one green pepper, one pound of round steak cut into inch pieces, brown in two tablespoonsful of suet, then add one-half cupful strained tomato, one cupful of water, one cupful of cooked kidney beans, one-half teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne pepper. Heat thoroughly and serve with grated cheese.

Veal Paprika With Noodles

Take five ounces or more of noodles, cook in salted water until tender, then drain. Sprinkle four or five cutlets of veal with salt and pepper and dip into egg and crumbs. Fry in a little butter until well cooked. Make a sauce of two tablespoonsful of butter and four of flour, add salt and cayenne to season and two cupfuls of milk; cook until well blended. Place the cutlets on a hot platter, add the noodles to the white sauce and pour over the meat. Garnish with parsley.

Macaroni With Vegetables.

Fry one chopped onion in two tablespoonsful of butter until brown. Add one-half teaspoonful of salt, three cupfuls of boiling soup stock, one-half pound of uncooked macaroni, three-fourths of a cupful of string beans, one-half cupful of green peas and the same of diced carrot. Cook all together 20 minutes, stirring frequently.

Friends Of Michigan U Invited To Join Builders Of Baird Carillon Tower

Baird Memorial Tower on the University of Michigan campus, housing the Charles Baird $70,000 carillon, as it will appear when the exterior is completed within the next few weeks. The concrete shell is finished and the exterior stone is now being placed.

Ann Arbor, Nov. 24—The University of Michigan's bell tower the Burton Memorial, is moving rapidly toward outward completion. The concrete shell has been raised to its full height, 176 feet, the steel frame of the 16-foot copper roof is ready to top the structure, and the 53 bells of the Charles Baird Carillon, third largest in the world, have been hoisted to their places on the steel frame in the 44-foot high bell chamber. Some time later this month, it is expected, the bells will ring out in the first carillon concert. Thus will be added an outstanding feature to University campus life and an important adjunct to the state's cultural and recreational equipment.

Completion of the tower at this time to a stage where the carillon can be used, has been made possible by contributions aggregating approximately $29,000 volunteered by 1,400 Ann Arbor residents in a movement sponsored by the Ann Arbor University of Michigan club. In addition, some 100 alumni and friends of the University from outside the city, anxious to have a part in the good will testimonial, have volunteered gifts totaling more than $8,000. All the 1,500 will have their names inscribed on the interior of the campanile as "Builders of the Tower."

So many persons throughout the state have expressed a desire to have a part in the erection of the tower, that the fund and list of "Builders" are being kept open. About $25,000 is still needed to finish the interior of the tower, including 31 practice rooms for the University School of Music on seven of the nine floors below the bell chamber and to complete the installation of the tower clock.

There will be no solicitation of funds, but the door is being left opened wide to alumni and others who want to have a part in the erection of the tower and to have their names enrolled on the interior walls among the "Builders."

Volunteered gifts will be received at the Alumni Association offices, University of Michigan, and will be turned over to the Board of Regents. If sufficient funds are subscribed, work on the tower will go forward without a halt until the triple objectives have been accomplished of providing a beautiful memorial to the late President Marion LeRoy Burton, of adequately housing Charles Baird's inspiring carillon gift, and of adding a much needed unit to the University School of Music.

What S. Cobb Thinks about

Salting Politics Away

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—A few weeks ago everybody on the train I'm traveling on was talking politics. Today everybody nearly is talking football. Exceptions noted thus far:

1. A middle aged lady talking symptoms. It seems she has had practically everything except lock-jaw. And as for operations—well, her whole life must have been an open book. I gather she never had a secret that was not shared with at least three doctors.

2. A gentleman connected with the movies talking movies. In an eighteen-hour shift.

3. Another gentleman talking self.

We can tell that, up to now, he is just browsing around the edges of this fascinating topic. By tomorrow we expect him to get really into the meat of it.

4. An elderly gentleman talking steadily. He has been going since we left Los Angeles. We don't know exactly what his subject is. He has not said yet.

Irvin S. Cobb

Praising Grand Canyon.

SCOOTING across Arizona I was moved to weave into this a complete description of the Grand Canyon. But mercy stayed my hand. Instead, I have decided to send to all deserving applicants souvenir postcards showing views of the canyon. This will give the general idea. It looks just like the postcards, only larger.

There's one thing about the Grand Canyon—long after every other natural wonder has been desecrated with architectural doodads and the scribbled names of individuals whose signatures would look all right on the register of any dollar-a-day American plan hotel, but are sort of out of place when smeared over one of creation's masterpieces, the Grand Canyon will still be unspotted.

California Rivers.

IT'S fun to cross a river with at least a trace of wetness in it. It must be my early raising, but I like a river to be dampish—in spots, anyhow.

After two years I can't get used to southern California rivers, where, for nine months a year, the only craft you can navigate is a stone-boat, and unless they use a sprinkling system you can't see where you're going, and they deepen the channel by blasting and not by dredging, and you come back from an aquatic trip full of hayfever dust. They do say the fish have to learn to swim all over again every fall, and down between the steep banks the poor little frogs suffer terribly from sunburn. It's a great country for Holy Rollers but hard on Baptists.

Crater Versus Manville.

I'M TORN between temptations. I'd like to follow the search now on again for Judge Crater, who has been mysteriously missing all these years except for the two or three hundred times when somebody said he'd been seen. On the other hand, Tommy Manville, the husband of my country, is reported as having fresh woman trouble back east—this time of a blonde nature.

Still, I can always prowling the deserts, looking for the Judge. Out here, we hunt him at regular intervals. He's different from the Liberty League. It disappeared just as suddenly as he did, but stayed that way.

Commercializing Football.

ONCE upon a time, and not so very long ago, a college was known by the football team it kept. Now it's known largely as the college that some football team is keeping.

And sport writers say that more money is now being wagered on football than on any sport we have. And it doesn't take an expert's eye to see that, each season, football is becoming more and more commercialized, more and more a professional, profit-making industry. Well, if football is to go the way of wrestling and horse racing and prize-fighting, it'll pretty soon be so that about the only game a chap can play without fixing somebody beforehand will be solitaire.

Still, being a football devotee does keep you out in the open air. But you could say that same thing for a seagull.

Europe's Gold Mines Plundered
During the period of the barbarian invasions, Europe's treasures of gold, everywhere plundered, were scattered and disappeared. The ancient mines became exhausted and for centuries the continent was poor in precious metals. By the end of the Middle Ages, it is estimated, not more than 12,000,000 to 16,000,000 pounds sterling of gold remained in all Europe.—Gas Logic.

Home Extension Group Meet in Grayling

Why do dresses made in the home often lack the style which ready-to-wear dresses have? Poor choice of fabric and pattern are most often frequent offenders because of an inadequate knowledge of color and line. Most patterns give quite adequate instructions on how to get dresses together. Poor construction is the least of the reasons why home produced dresses lack a professional look. Knowing how to select becoming fabrics and smart, becoming patterns can do more than anything else to start a costume on the road to success. Color and line, the keynotes to selecting flattering colors and good lines are the subjects for discussion at the second meeting of the clothing project.

Local leaders from Crawford County Home Extension groups will meet at the High School in Grayling, December 2 at 10:00 a. m. with Miss Alice Hertzler, Home Extension Agent.

Grayling Group No. 3

Group 3 held a business meeting November 5th at the home of Mrs. Eugene Papendick for the election of officers and forming a club. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Richard Lovely, and the lesson was given by local leaders, Mrs. Joseph Kernosky and Mrs. Matt Bidvia.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Wm. Heric and Mrs. John Papendick.

Must Stand Fire Test

The girl of Bonda Forjas, in southern India, takes her chosen man into the jungle, where she applies fire to his bare back. If the pain draws a yell from him, he is rejected.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes By JEAN NEWTON

WHERE SAVING "FACE" IS THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN LIFE

WITH the Chinese or Japanese, a consideration far more important than saving his money, his position, even his life, is saving his "face."

"Face" in the Orient, as with us, is a combination of dignity, pride, decency, honor, self-respect. It is the mark of the spirit in the human being. And so important is face with these people of the older civilizations, that it is not uncommon to sacrifice one's life for loss of face.

A public man "losing face" in China might retire to a monastery or his native village, or, as in Japan, he might commit suicide. Never, in the East, should we have the spectacle of officials actually disgraced, but for lack of proper evidence able to avoid punishment, going on as if nothing had happened and laughing up their sleeves, so to speak. This loss of face would be a far greater calamity than the wealth or position placed in jeopardy. For this reason, we learn, a suicide in the house of a Chinese or a body placed upon his doorstep is sufficient for him to lose face and become an object of contempt. For what matter that he is not actually guilty of murder, if by some act or neglect to act he made life unbearable for some person?

"Face" applies to the lowly as well as to the mighty. And if extremists in this regard have sometimes proved costly to these people, there is no doubt that it has made life worth living to many to whom it would otherwise have been poor and meaningless. "Face" to people to whom this means something can compensate for poverty, misfortune, even death. It may be more satisfying as a standard than the getting of things, less disappointing and disillusioning than the attainment of things, is frequently known to be. And for a people who are sometimes so preoccupied with an object to be attained or a prize to be won as to lose sight of the spiritual values, it may be worth while to ponder more on the deeper satisfactions of that quality called "face" which other millions regard so highly, and which has sustained them through great misfortune.

To the Rescue

Commercializing Football.

ONCE upon a time, and not so very long ago, a college was known by the football team it kept. Now it's known largely as the college that some football team is keeping.

And sport writers say that more money is now being wagered on football than on any sport we have. And it doesn't take an expert's eye to see that, each season, football is becoming more and more commercialized, more and more a professional, profit-making industry. Well, if football is to go the way of wrestling and horse racing and prize-fighting, it'll pretty soon be so that about the only game a chap can play without fixing somebody beforehand will be solitaire.

Still, being a football devotee does keep you out in the open air. But you could say that same thing for a seagull.

Europe's Gold Mines Plundered
During the period of the barbarian invasions, Europe's treasures of gold, everywhere plundered, were scattered and disappeared. The ancient mines became exhausted and for centuries the continent was poor in precious metals. By the end of the Middle Ages, it is estimated, not more than 12,000,000 to 16,000,000 pounds sterling of gold remained in all Europe.—Gas Logic.
